This Privacy Policy explains how we collect, store and use personal data when you use the Platform or otherwise provide your personal data to us.

Please read this Privacy Policy carefully to understand how we will treat your personal data.

This Privacy Policy should be read together with our Terms and Conditions, which together apply to your use of our Platform.

Any use of the Platform will constitute acceptance of our Privacy Policy. If you do not agree to any part of our Privacy Policy, please do not use Spektd.

What information do we store?

When we say your "personal data", we mean any information that identifies any person (name, email address, phone number etc) that you provide to us in the use of Spektd, or that is contained in any other information that you provide to us (or that you authorise a third party to give to us on your behalf).

"Non-personal data" refers to any information that does not identify you as a specific individual.

Information you provide

Your personal data includes the information you provide, when you register for an account or opt-in to receive our emails, or when you submit a "Contact Manufacturer" request or a "Quote Request" to a Manufacturer, or when you answer questionnaires, surveys, enter competitions or provide information in your account profile, on the Platform, or during a support enquiry between Spektd and you and/or your organisation.

Examples of this personal data include:

- Name and company represented and company role
- Contact information including email address
- Demographic information such as address and postcode
- Other information relevant to customer surveys and/or offers

We do not collect or process "special categories" of personal data, as defined under GDPR.

Information we collect

We collect information about your website usage, to improve our products and service. Some of this data may be "personal data", where it identifies a person.

The information we collect and how we use it:

- We monitor patterns of usage, such as login dates and actions performed on the site (such as searches, page views, file downloads, product comparisons, quote requests) so we can understand how people are using Spektd to develop and improve our product.
- We also monitor patterns of usage so that we can tailor any communications we may send you or promotions you may receive.
- For example, we may tailor emails with information about features or products that you haven't tried or seen yet, instead of features that you use frequently.
- For security reasons and to aid in monitoring patterns of usage, we log your IP address when you use the website. This is your computer's individual identification number that is assigned to your computer when connected to the Internet.
- We monitor traffic information when you visit our site or read our emails, including things like page visits, email opens, email clicks, referring sites, and messages sent. We use this information to improve our website, promotions, and to understand user behaviour. Please see "How we use cookies" section below.

How will we use your information

Providing access to Spektd

We use your personal data to enable us to register you and provide you with access to the Platform.

It will also enable us to contact you by email, post, SMS, social media or telephone where necessary with Spektd updates; to record your personal preferences; to personalise our services to you (such as by saving search and browsing history to make it easier for you to find information when you return to the Platform).

Making improvements to Spektd

We will also use and analyse your personal data so that we can administer, support, improve and develop our business, customer service and the features of the Platform. We may use third parties to assist us in doing these things from time to time, and in those cases may pass on your personal data to them. We will only share your data with third parties that we trust, and where there are assurances in place that they will ensure your data is protected.

Informing manufacturers of product specifications

We will notify Manufacturers of your name and company if you use the Platform to create a "For Tender" specification schedule which includes their products, allowing them to respond quickly to any further information requirements that you may have.

We will not provide Manufacturers with your direct contact details (such as email address or phone number), but we do provide them with the option to send you a message through Spektd, which will be delivered to your email address.

Providing market insights

We monitor anonymous, aggregated information about how people use Spektd so that we can produce insights about how people search, compare, research and make decisions about lighting products for specifications.

For example, based on an anonymous, aggregate data analysis, we may produce a report on how people might search for products they may wish to specify.

We may share these insights with Manufacturers, on our blog or other promotional material, use them internally to improve our product and communications, or share with other interested third parties. We will never identify you or your company in such communications, reports or white papers and will never report data in such a way that you or your company could be identified without your prior consent.

Contacting you for marketing purposes

We may use your personal data to contact you by email, post, SMS, social media and/or telephone to let you know about Spektd and/or third party services, content, offers, market research or product ranges which may be of interest to you.

We will only use your data in this way where you have provided opt-in consent, we have legitimate business reasons for doing so, or where we are otherwise entitled by law to do so.

If you would like us to stop providing you with such notifications, just contact us using the details provided at the bottom of this page. Please note, this may take up to five working days to take effect.

Legal requirements

In some circumstances we may process your personal data because it is required for compliance with a legal or regulatory obligation.

Security and data storage

We are committed to ensuring that your information is secure. In order to prevent unauthorised access or disclosure, we have put in place suitable physical, electronic and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure the information we collect online.

Where we utilise third parties to help provide our services, we will ensure that the security policies and confidentiality arrangements of those third parties adhere to the same requirements we ourselves impose and expect.

Where we have given you (or where you have chosen) a password which enables you to access certain parts of the Platform, you are responsible for keeping this password confidential. You should not share your password with anyone.

How long do we store your data for?

We only store your data for as long as necessary for the purposes of processing set out in this policy. When you delete your account with Spektd, we will automatically delete your data within 180 days.

Within one working day of deleting your Spektd account you will no longer receive unsolicited e-mail communications from Spektd.
